

MONEY FOR GOVERNMENT

The report of the joint conference of both Houses of the Legislature on the departmental appropriation bill, called commonly the current expense bill, will be found herewith. The measure is one of the big bills of the extra session, and the agreement upon it was not reached without a great deal of discussion. ## CONFERENCE CLOSING even the death of the cross. When the outward law says, 'This is the way,' man's best judgment says 'That is the way' and his heart confirms it. The outer law and the inner law must tally and be in accord.

"When the scripture speaks of old men and young men seeing dreams and visions I think it means visions such as we see now. Visions of a day when government shall be righteous, when houses of ill fame shall be closed, when the world shall be Christ's. We all may have visions. One cannot read poetry without its bringing him visions. So if we can see visions in these things why cannot we get an insight into God's government. Paul, unhorsed on the Damascus road, saw a vision of the character of Jesus and his claim on his soul and so acted that he was able to say to Agrippa 'I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.'"

"Men will admit that insight is all right in the realms of science and invention, electricity, in arithmetic, in forecasting the weather, but many of them refuse to believe that insight and vision are possible in the religious realm. But I insist that it is all right in religion. History records many examples. Such heavenly visions came to Martin Luther, John Knox, John Wesley, Charles Spurgeon and scores of others, heroes of the Christian church. They were not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."

"Such a vision came to that modern St. Catherine who cried out to William Booth 'We have rung the bell long enough for people to come to us. Let us go out to them.' That began the great work of the Salvation Army, that organization which has saved millions. I think with all honor to William Booth that the great power that moved the Salvation Army was Catherine Booth."

"I have mentioned these few and you may say: 'Oh, yes, but I can't be as great as these.' Yes, but I would remind you that the little spring is as important as the gushing well. If they had the great mountain top vision we can have the little knoll vision. Every man has a right to a spiritual vision."

"I cannot close without speaking of the vision of the preacher. The average preacher has to take a raw-hide of purpose and whip himself into the pulpit the first time and some have to the hundredth time. But some day there comes the vision. It burns like a fire in the soul. Pity the man in whom it has burned out. Oh, brethren let us working in these islands give ourselves and obey the vision. You may go down to some plantation and preach ten years and seem to have no results and then see one boy that has been brought up under your teaching becoming a leader in the emancipation of men from sin."

"I must remind you of the visions that come to men in all walks of life. Has a vision come to you? If it has, nurture it. Keep it as a man on a prairie with no means of making fire would nurture the little flame he has. Have you obeyed the vision? What is the trouble with us—disobedience. Let us get back to God and He will get back to us."

At the close of the sermon the audience remained with bowed heads singing softly "Nearer My God to Thee." Then Dr. Ostrom asked the ministers and workers who wished to receive the heavenly vision and be obedient to it to rise. Then he asked fellow-members of the church who wished to say the same thing to rise. Then, while "Jesus, Lover of my Soul" was sung the appeal to those who had not been identified with the church was made. Many rose in answer to the question "Do you want to know God and live as Christ would have you?" until nearly every person in the church was standing.

During the distribution of the decision cards Mr. Butler sang beautifully, "Jesus Will Help If You'll Try." Then the congregation sang "Happy Day." The dismissal was informal many remaining for group prayer meetings and for conferences.

THE DAY SESSIONS.

Yesterday's sessions began with a largely attended prayer meeting in Central Union church at 6:30 a. m. At nine o'clock the sectional prayer meetings began and at 10 the conference session proper opened with an address by Rev. Curtis P. Shields of Hilo. This was followed by an address on "The Innermost of Redemption" by Dr. Ostrom. After the sectional conference meetings, in which the addresses were translated into the different tongues, there was an adjournment until 2 p. m. After a short business session Dr. Ostrom took up the subject of "The Bible and its Use." His remarks were interpreted by Rev. Stephen L. Desha.

OLD FOLKS' SERVICE.

THE SENATE HAS ABOUT CLOSED UP ITS WORK

The House and Senate have both passed the big appropriation bills on third reading, and these now go to the Governor. So far as the Senate is concerned, it awaits the pleasure of the House, although it would not be likely to adjourn without day in any event until the Governor had given some indication of what he intended to do with the appropriation bills. Because, if he vetoes these and there is no legislature in session, the whole business will be up in the air.

The House was in an extravagant mood, and wasted a day. To be sure, it finally passed the salaries and current expense bills, after a vain attempt had been made to make provision for the band—and after that the members ran wild. The talk was all on the attempt of Representative Harris to put riders on a little appropriation bill, making provision for the militia and the Maui strike. The attempt failed, and the next move will be an effort to provide for these matters in a separate bill.

THE SENATE.

The Senate yesterday cleared the deck of both big appropriation bills, and waits now upon the pleasure of the House and the diligence of the Governor to adjourn the extra session. The conference reports on both the salaries and current expense bills were adopted without serious opposition, and the only thing that looked at all like a fight arose when Achi presented a report from the Judiciary Committee favoring the passage of the Bishop bill making appropriations to serve in case the County Act shall become for any cause inoperative. This is Senate Bill No. 10, and had its birth in the fertile brain of Senator Dickey. It met such strong opposition when the gentleman from Maui introduced it, however, that he became angered, and let it go. And immediately afterwards Bishop re-introduced it. The Achi report follows:

FAVORS THE BILL.

Hon. D. P. R. Isenberg, President of the Senate:
Sir: Your Judiciary Committee, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 10, beg leave to report:

We recommend the passage of the bill with the following amendments:

Respectfully submitted,
W. C. ACHI,
Chairman.

C. H. DICKEY,
J. C. LANE.

REPORT ADOPTED.

There was nothing but this on the order of the day, and so the bill came at once for consideration on second reading. Paris began the trouble by moving that the bill should be printed. Dickey objected, and so did Achi. The Senator from Oahu said that the bill was in proper shape as it stood, although he did not believe that it would ever pass the House. However, he thought the Senate should do its duty and pass the bill, so putting the finances of the Territory in good shape without another extra session, whether the County Act stood or not. He moved that the bill pass second reading on the adoption of the committee's report.

Bishop said he thought the County Act would hold good, nevertheless this bill should pass as a precaution. He did not see the reason of the opposition of County Act men to this measure. He thought it was the duty of the Senate to pass the bill and so avoid an extra session. It was good legislation to do it.

Paris moved that the bill be laid on the table, which was lost on the call of the roll.

Then Paris renewed his motion to send to the Printing Committee, but this was lost on a tie vote.

The committee report was adopted, after that, which passes the bill on second reading. It will be read for the third time today.

CURRENT EXPENSES.

The report was adopted without opposition, which passes the bill, and immediately Dowsett presented the report from the same committee on the current expenses or departmental appropriation bill, which carries appropriations aggregating $1,457,355.

A motion was made to adopt the report, thus passing the bill.

Dickey got the floor on this, and although he did not oppose the motion, he said that the conference committee had gone beyond its powers in inserting in the bill items that were not there when the bill passed both Houses. One was an item for rubber trees, and there were two items for the installation of an oil-burning plant.

Dowsett claimed that the committee had not gone beyond its powers, and Achi said the amounts in the bill given by the House had not been exceeded. He thought that the committee had not exceeded its powers.

Dickey said the province of a conference committee was to settle the differences between the two Houses. But he did not object to the adoption of the report.

It was adopted, accordingly, and the bill passed third reading.

A recess was taken to the call of the chair, to wait for a report from the House on Senate Bill 9, to which it was proposed to add riders in the Governor's recommendation for the militia and to cover the expenses of the Maui expedition.

When the Senate was called to order again, the President informed the Senate that the House could not get the bill ready today, in all probability, and so an adjournment was taken until 10 a. m. today.

THE HOUSE.

The House of Representatives spent an absolutely futile afternoon yesterday. At the morning session the matter of the support of the militia came up and was sent over to the afternoon.

Harris reported orally on Senate Bill 9, for the Finance Committee, advocating the changing of the bill in its entirety and to insert a $10,000 item for the support of the militia instead of the $50 or McDowell of Joplin, Mo., which had already been paid.

SO THEY TALKED.

There was a lengthened debate in which Coelho led the attack on any militia appropriation. The vote on the amendment had almost been put when Harris recognized that the psychological moment had arrived.

He withdrew his amendment and stated that he would have the same subject up on the second reading of House Bill 9. This was passed through second reading, as was House Bill 8, to appropriate $2000 for the Lahaina riot expenses.

Thus was the afternoon spent in a fruitless debate which will probably be repeated on third reading of House Bill 9.

The bill to refund Dr. Wight $55.52 for overpaid taxes passed third reading.
